

POLES ATTACKED BY LITHUANIANS OVER BOUNDARY

Latter's Forces Occupy Town Of Seiny Says War Dispatch.

ALLEGED ALLIANCE

Think Lithuanians and Russians Have Formed Agreement.

London, Sept. 6.—Hard fighting continues along the Polish-Galician frontier, according to the following soviet war office communique wireless from Moscow today.

"Fighting continues with alternating success on the Brest-Litovsk Sector. There is violent fighting northwest of Hrubosof and south of Sokal. We are advancing near Liazcz."

Paris, Sept. 6.—The French foreign office has received advice to the effect that the Lithuanian forces have occupied the town of Seiny.

The foreign office explained that the dispute between the Poles and Lithuanians, in which the occupation announced is an incident, arises from the fact that the recent peace treaty between the Moscow and Lithuanian governments is in conflict as regards national boundaries with the line laid down for Poland by the allies when they tentatively defined the Polish frontiers last December.

A dispatch from Warsaw says: "An attack on Polish forces by the Lithuanians with machine guns and artillery in the region of Seiny, 35 miles northwest of Gdonsko, is announced in Polish reports from the northern front. The reports declare the attack was unprovoked, and that the Lithuanians had received orders to occupy Augustowo."

The Polish press comments on the Lithuanian action as inexplicable, as the provisional frontier between Poland and Lithuania has not yet been reached by the Poles. The latter contend that the Lithuanians are occupying several localities on the Polish side of the frontier.

It is also announced at Warsaw that the negotiations regarding the frontier and the future relations of Poland and Lithuania have been broken off and that the Polish delegates are returning to Warsaw. These delegates comprise a special mission which went to Kovno about a month ago to confer with the Lithuanians. It is said the supreme council has been informed that the Lithuanians propose a new line of demarcation running through Margrabowa, Augustowo and Szezyn.

It is understood the Lithuanian government places the responsibility for the hostilities upon the Poles, asserting that the Lithuanians were compelled to defend themselves. The Poles, on the other hand, claim the Lithuanians opened fire first.

The Polish communique asserts that the attack by Lithuanians upon the Poles was in pursuance of an understanding between the Lithuanians and the Russian Bolsheviks. The statement says the Lithuanians have crossed the Curzon line, the tentative Polish boundary drawn by the allies, without declaring war.

With regard to the fighting between the Polish and Russian soviet forces, the statement announces that between Wlodowa and Dubienka, on the center of the front, the Russians launched an attack with the intention of forcing a crossing of the Bug, but were repulsed.

LABOR SECRETARY WILL INVESTIGATE COAL SITUATION

Situation In Anthracite Field To Be Probed Soon.

Washington, Sept. 6.—President Wilson asked Secretary of Labor Wilson to make an investigation into the situation in the anthracite coal fields. This action was taken in response to a telegraphic request from the United Mine Workers of America that the wage scale deliberations be reopened. It was intimated that a demand for wage increase in addition to those granted by the anthracite commission will be filed.

The president has already taken the stand that the anthracite miners are morally bound to accept the recent report of the commission. In answering the anthracite miners' original threat to go "on vacation" if the report of the commission was accepted, Mr. Wilson expressed belief that the entire principle of collective bargaining depended on the observance of contracts by the miners.

SEEKS ACTION ON DRY ACT

Columbus, Sept. 6.—Suit to enjoin Secretary of State Smith from submitting the Crabbe prohibition enforcement act passed by the last legislature to referendum at the November election was filed by George S. Hawke, Cincinnati. Hawke charges that of the 90,000 names attached to the petitions 30,000 do not comply with the law, either through addresses not being written in the same hand as the signatures, failure to sign in ink or other minor discrepancies. Taxpayers, Hawke contends, should not be burdened with the expense of the referendum.

WORKMEN SEIZE PLANTS IN TEN ITALIAN CITIES

Labor Demands Formation Of Soviets To Control Factories.

HOLD CONFERENCE

Government Arsenal Are Under Control Of Working Class.

London, Sept. 6.—Industrial plants and government arsenals in ten great Italian cities have been seized by striking workmen who demand the formation of soviets to control the factories, according to advices from Milan to the Daily Express today.

Labor leaders, who held a conference with representatives of the government at Milan deny the workers intend to attempt the overthrow of the Italian government through revolution.

Factories or arsenals have been taken over by the workmen in the following cities.

Turin, Venice, Milan, Genoa, Florence, Naples, Brescia, Verona, Spessa and Palermo.

At Turin machine guns have been mounted on the roofs of the seized plants. The workers threaten to wreck the machinery in the iron and steel mills if soldiers attempt to evict them.

Workers who seized the arsenal at Venice have taken over large number of tanks and armored military motor cars.

Italian iron workers took the lead in the great industrial campaign for the soviet system or government. They declare that they will hold out definitely. On the other hand, workers in factories will yield and are demanding government support. It is impossible to see where the agitators will lead. Italian newspapers are deeply alarmed over the situation.

The government has feared to take any repressive measures although troops have been employed to protect property.

Labor leaders who met representatives of the iron workers in Milan are reported to have given assurances that they would assist in extending soviet policy to all branches of industry. They seek to have workers councils established in all factories. Their battle cry, they declared, will be "peaceful conquest."

Russian methods have been installed in the plants held by the workers.

RULING SOUGHT ON SUFFRAGE SNARL BY ANTI FORCES

Four Methods To Be Used To Bring About Decision

Washington, Sept. 6.—Four methods to be used by anti-suffragists to bring about a decision by the supreme court before the November election on the legality of ratification of the federal suffrage amendment were outlined in a statement issued by the American Constitutional league.

The anti-suffragists, according to the statement, propose first to appeal pending litigation as to Tennessee's ratification to the Tennessee supreme court, which meets Sept. 20. An attempt will be made to have the case appealed or certified from the Tennessee court to the supreme court.

COX REITERATES THAT THE PEACE IS BIG ISSUE

Declares Farmer and Laborer Are Backbone Of Nation.

NEED FORMAL PEACE

Points Out Needs of People Of Europe and U. S. Responsibility.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 6.—The peace treaty must be ratified and the waste and extravagance of war ended without delay if the full measure of agricultural production and prosperity is to be realized in the United States, Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, declared in his Labor Day address at the Minnesota State Fair here this afternoon.

Emphasizing the inter-dependence of agriculture and labor because agriculture is dependent upon labor, Governor Cox declared "the farmer and the laborer are the producers forming the very backbone of our material security."

A healthy condition of both interests, the Governor asserted is essential to the prosperity and well being of the nation.

While giving thought to increased facilities on farms already productive, Cox said, "we must not overlook the necessity for increased acreage and the opportunity America offers for agricultural extensions and home building. Government must be helpful in this. A definite plan of reclamation property worked out will add millions of acres to the productive territory of our country."

"And this brings us to a consideration of one of the most vital questions of the day. I am not violating the propriety of the occasion by discussing an issue which in itself is without political significance and which becomes political only in an attempt made to turn it to partisan advantage. Millions of men, women, and children in devastated regions of Europe are literally starving to death when America has the resources and ability to provide for them all. But this provision can be made only when reconstruction of the world has been undertaken under definite plan. Although our soldiers achieved a victory in the world war and by their direct aid brought the war to a close we still do not have peace. Until this peace is achieved, little headway can be made. Not only is the civilization of the world at stake but the material welfare of our own country is vitally affected."

MUST NOT INTRODUCE AUTOOCRACY INTO POLITICS' GOMPERS

Delivers Labor Day Address At Columbus Monday.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—"Now is not the time to introduce autocracy and imperialism in politics. There are new concepts for the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. They cannot be taken as guttering generalities."

This was the statement made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor before a gathering of officers and employees of a woolen company, at a dinner given at a local hotel, Sunday evening.

Mr. Gompers was applauded when he said "There were elements who wanted the American Federation of Labor to change from the first Monday in September to May 1, our Labor Day to give it an international character and repeat the revolutionary tendencies of Europe, but the American Federation of Labor, by unanimous vote, rejected and repudiated the proposal."

In discussing unsettled condition President Gompers said it is our duty as American citizens to see that these problems are settled along national lines.

President Gompers is to deliver a Labor Day address at the Columbus Driving Park today.

The proposal to appropriate the amount to the Kansas workers was submitted to the miners about three weeks ago. The appropriation is in the nature of a loan.

CLOSE TO THRONE IN LUXEMBURG

Princess Charlotte and Prince Felix.
This couple is very close to the throne in the little grand duchy of Luxembourg. Princes Charlotte's sister is the reigning grand duchess. The princess was married during the war to Prince Felix de Bourbon de Parme, brother of the then empress of Austria. The marital affairs of Luxembourg's royal family were persistently influenced by the kaiser, before the latter's downfall, not always to the liking of everyone concerned. The above photo was taken last month.

SENATOR HARDING WILL NOT WHOLLY REJECT LEAGUE PACT

Marion, O., Sept. 6.—George Wickensham, former Republican attorney general and an advocate of the league of nations, issued a statement declaring that the Republican nominee would not "wholly and finally reject the league," but would take the lead in revising the covenant and putting it into practical operation.

Wickensham was in conference here with Senator Harding.

The senator recognizes, Mr. Wickensham added, that the league is so interwoven with the fortunes of Europe that its unobjectionable features must be preserved to stabilize European peace.

From Senator Harding himself there was no expression on the subject, but it was indicated that in the near future he might make a public statement detailing his precise stand with regard to acceptance of any portion of the covenant as it was written.

"I earnestly favor the league of nations," said Mr. Wickensham's statement. "I recognize the imperfections of the Paris covenant. Yet I should have been satisfied to see it ratified as written, believing that the power of amendment was ample to enable it to be molded as our national interests might make necessary."

Senator Harding does not wholly and finally reject the league. He recognizes that it may have become so entwined and interwoven in the peace of Europe that its good work and its unobjectionable provisions must be preserved in order to stabilize the peace of that continent.

"When President Harding, working in accord with a Republican congress, takes up the work of placing upon a firm, just and sure foundation the relation of this country to the other nations of the world, I am confident that the logic of accomplished fact will lead to the adoption of the league, so modified as to remove all just doubts as to its undue effect upon American rights and interests."

SABOTAGE ALLEGED BY RAIL OFFICIALS TO DIST. ATTORNEY

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Railroad executives here announced they had appealed to District Attorney Clyne to stop "an organized campaign of sabotage" by railroad strikers. Engines are being stolen almost nightly and turned loose to run wild through the lands, strikebreakers are being beaten and recently one was killed, the rail chiefs charge.

J. F. Stuart of the railroad constabulary said one of his men visited 50 rooming houses, and in each place was told that the proprietor wouldn't "rent" rooms to railroad men. "Nearly a score of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad men have been beaten in the last 10 days, offcials of that road say, while two yard engines and a freight train have been stolen and turned loose in the yards."

WARNING SOUNDED BY HARDING TO CAPITOL AND LABOR ON STRIFE

American Economic System Described By Senator As "The Judgment Of The Ages" in Labor Day Address At Marion.

FIRST LABOR SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN GIVEN Urges Banishment Of Class Consciousness and Urges Relief From Menace Of Present Day Of Insufficient Production.

Marion, O., Sept. 6.—The American economic system with its equality of opportunity for all was described by Senator Warren G. Harding today as the best in the world—"the judgment of the ages,"—and he sounded a warning to both capital and labor not to endanger the system by abuses and strife.

The candidate delivered a labor address, his first of the campaign, to several thousand persons at Lincoln park. His audience was composed of many workers and employers.

Senator Harding reminded labor that labor has wages, and he warned that the present scale can be maintained only if labor gives a full day's work for a full day's pay. The menace of the present day, he said, is insufficient production.

Unionism, collective bargaining and the right of workers to quit their employment were endorsed by the candidate. He deplored the tendency toward striking, however, and after declaring that compulsory arbitration was not feasible, asserted that "volitional" arbitration is practical and should be followed in the settlement of disputes.

To those who came expecting to hear what he was going to do for labor Senator Harding declared he had no promises. Neither labor or capital, he said should aspire to domination in government.

"I believe in unionism," said Harding. "I believe in collective bargaining. I believe the two have combined to speed labor to its just rewards. But I do not believe in labor's domination of government any more than I believe that capital should dominate."

"We had our time at that and we learned the danger and ended it. We do not want to substitute one class for another. We want to put an end to classes."

"I wish the existing high scale of wages to remain on one explicit condition—that for the high wages that American workmen shall give to his task the highest degree of efficiency. There is not any other way to keep wages high and lower the cost of living."

"The menace of the present day is inefficient production. I am not advocating the driving, slavish toil which saps men's energies but I do advocate honest, efficient return for proper pay."

"The slacker, the loafer on the job is not only the greatest obstacle to labor's advancement but he is cheating his fellows more than his employer. The workman who deliberately adds to cost robs a fellow worker who must buy and impedes the way to that ideal condition where wage exceeds the cost of living."

"Let no one be guilty of idleness, or the abolition of employer and employee. Work is the sublime luxury of life. There will be employers as long as there is leadership among men."

"The big inspiration in life is to get on. We cannot all get on alike. God Almighty never intended it to be so, else he would have made us all alike."

The principal cause of industrial unrest, Senator Harding said, was the drifting apart of employer and employee. The old relationship has gone.

Turning to the settlement of industrial disputes, he said: "As an eminent labor leader said: 'All strikes sooner or later are settled around a table; why not get together around a table before the strike begins.'"

"We cannot have compulsory arbitration, but I think we can have and should have volitional arbitration."

PRaises RAIL BILL
Senator Harding praised the Cummins-Esch railroad law and the return of the railroads to their owners.

"The government," he said, "has enough to do without invading the field of private activity, at least until government demonstrates its capacity for efficiency of government ownership."

The cost of living, Senator Harding said, must be reduced, but it will not be reduced at the cost of the American workman or by bringing American standards down to the old world standards.

"We can reduce the cost of government by quitting the play of politics with the nation's bread and butter. Staging assaults on profiteering do not impress the country and sugar agreements which add a billion to our sugar bills for a year do not indicate a know-how which entitles the bunglers to hold their jobs."

"I do not come to you today with a speech of promise. I cannot pledge you the impossible. I can only preach the gospel of understanding practically applied."

"We cannot prosper one group and imperil another. We cannot have and must not have a menacing practical consciousness."

"Our system is right, it is the judgement of the ages, and here in America we have wrought the supreme achievement. There are abuses, perhaps ever will be. Our business is to strike at greed, outlaw robbery, and corrupt abuses without destroying the temple in which we abide."

"I do not blow you a bubble of imaginary equality of men and women, but I do proclaim equality and opportunity provided in America and making America the best land of hope in all the world. The fair chance is here. It isn't a particular craft, it is not alone in the closed shop, it is not in revolutionary proposals of these who threaten destruction in return for liberty's blessing. It is in honest endeavor, thrift, and a resolute determination to get on in the world."

HAD SPEED FEVER

Foltz, after hitting the two cars ran into a culvert. He will recover.

OLYMPIC TRAPSHOOTING CHAMP CAPTURES U. S. TITLE WITH A BORROWED SHOTGUN

F. S. Wright (left) and Mark Arie.

The fact that his own gun was broke halted not Mark Arie, Olympic trapshooting champion, in the Grand American Handicap shoot, recently completed at Cleveland, O. Forced to put his gun in the repair shop before the event started, he borrowed a gun for the shoot. All of which caused him to miss two clay birds in 200. The 198 score was good enough, however, to give him the amateur eighteen-yard title. Frank S. Wright set a record by winning the amateur title at the regulation sixteen-yard distance for the second time.

WILLIAM ROSECRANS
September 6, 1819

William Rosecrans, one of the great generals of the civil war, was born at Kingston, Ohio. He was 23 when he graduated from West Point and for more than 10 years he saw active service with the military forces that were helping win the West for us.

But after a long time he thought he was tired of Army life, and resigned to go into business. Then in a few years the Civil War broke out and Rosecrans enlisted. He was given the rank of Colonel and in a month was raised to Brigadier General. He won West Virginia from the Southern forces and made a great many valuable maps of this section of the country.

He realized the importance of holding Nashville, Tennessee, so moved down there with his army. He fought the bloody battle of Murfreesboro where 10,000 were killed on each side. By a strategic move, he deceived the Southern commander Bragg, turned suddenly with his army and took Chattanooga, first fighting the important battle of Chickamauga.

He was known after the war as "The Great Decliner" because he refused so many important positions. He was offered and refused the Vice Presidency, the governorship of Ohio the governorship of California, the governorship of Ohio a second time, the position of Mayor of San Francisco and other offices.

SACRAMENTAL WINE PUTS THIEVES UNDER

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. —What with a drop of liquor fetching as much as a drop of gold, two thirsty burglars found no difficulty in deciding that the sacramental wine in the local Catholic church would be the easiest and most negotiable loot in town.

Straightway the two young men entered the church and pried open the wine cupboard with knife blades and loaded the booty into potato sacks. One bottle remained in the cupboard, a dusty bottle of an ancient vintage stored away for a great occasion. This they opened and stayed by it until the last drop.

The church sexton found them snoring with gusto on the altar steps. A policeman led them zig zagly to the lock up.

Beauty Chats

Look Pleasant Please.
The greatest consolation for the homely girl should be this idea—that if she can't be beautiful, she can be interesting; and if her features can never be perfect, her expression can be.

There is no pleasure in looking at a sullen beauty whose mouth curves down at the corners and whose eyes are gloomy and frowning. At least it might be pleasant to look at her but it would certainly not be pleasant to be with her for any length of time! So there you have the whole reason for the unaccountable popularity of many homely girls. They are probably very jolly and animated and so pleasant to be with that no one stops to think whether they have classic noses or rosebud mouths.

The cheapest thing in the world is a pleasant expression. That is why I wonder that it is so rare. If you will do as I do—study the faces of the women who sit opposite you in the street cars—you will notice that not one out of a hundred looks pleased or content when her face is in repose. Yet it's easy to look pleasant. It's not even very hard when you don't feel pleasant, for you can force the expression to your face whether the real feelings are behind it or not. Every woman is actress enough to do that.

And you should try to cultivate this pleasant expression. It's a duty you owe to the world and yourself—the world because it needs all the pleasant things it can get and yourself because a constant pleasant expression will hold up the muscles of the face and keep it youthful for years.

Melchisedech—The best known face bleach is Cucumber Milk.
Oil of sweet almonds, four ounces;
Fresh cucumber juice, ten ounces;
Essence of cucumbers, three ounces;
White castile soap powered, 1-4 ounce;

Tincture of benzoin, 2-3 drachm.
The juice of the cucumbers is obtained by slicing them thin, cooking slowly in a little water and straining. Make the essence by putting an ounce and a half of the juice into the same quantity of high proof alcohol. Shake this with the soap in a large jar. When dissolved add the cucumber juice and when mixed and the oil and the benzoin, stirring until the liquid is creamy. Keep in tightly corked bottles in the dark and shake well before using.

A Well Remembered Voice—Which ever type of complexion you possess there is only one rule that applies to the use of face powder and that is—purchase the very best quality you can afford and pay more attention to purity than to its perfume.

WILMINGTON PIKE GETS TARTIA COAT

Oil splattered machines, betoken the fact that the Xenia-Wilmington pike, has been resurfaced with a new coat of tartia, near Wilmington. The oil has been applied from Todd's Fork on into Wilmington. Motorists have come into this city with the oil splattered not only on their machine but on themselves as well. The tartia will reclaim the pike however, and greatly improve the thoroughfare for travel after it has had time to soak in.

DEMPSEY FAVORITE IN LABOR DAY MATCH WITH BILLY MISKE

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 6.—A large and enthusiastic section of the best people in these middle parts trekked their way today to the 20,000 capacity arena where Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske were slated to swat each other with reckless abandon but remarkable precision.

The unsettled weather of the night before the uncertainty of conditions through the day did not foil the crowd in its efforts to pack the stadium.

The bout goes on—barring a cloud burst fight time. And if that happens the show won't be called off—just delayed a little while it clears. The fighters have agreed to that condition.

The champion goes into the ring almost a prohibitive favorite. A committee which this morning totalled close to $100,000 was begging for Miske takers even the sweet odds of 3-1 to 4-1 were waged around that Dempsey would vanquish his St. Paul adversary some way some how. There has been less betting on this contest than in the history of titular battles in the heavy weight division. That's because folks recall that Dempsey decisively outpointed Miske in a no decision classic.

And since that time Dempsey has come forward with a cyclonic rush, has developed the most terrible punch in ring history—while Miske has been more or less standing still.

The general belief is that Dempsey will knock Miske out after a tough fight. It's the Miske plan to try to box it with Dempsey through the early rounds rather than make the desperate effort to slugging it. As long as Miske boxes—as long as he uses all of his defensive trickery—he has a fair chance of delaying the arrival of the knockout volleys. But it's thought that sooner or later Dempsey will corner him, force toe to toe battling—and add the name of another victim to his list.

GREAT THINGS MAY HAPPEN TO PENNANT RAGERS OF LEAGUES

New York, Sept. 6.—With double headers scheduled for every club in the two big leagues today great things might happen to the pennant racers, now the tightest and most interesting in the history of the game. If one of the three leading clubs in the American league should lose both games it might find itself unable to recover so much lost ground at this stage of the game. If the Giants should lose two in the National league it might be their swansong, but a double reverse for either Cincinnati or Brooklyn, would put the Giants exactly in the running if they should win both, and might eliminate one of the other two.

The White Sox rested in second place this morning, due to their victory over the Browns while the Yankees were idle. Cleveland also gained a hitch on the Yankees by winning. Brooklyn is the National League leader by virtue of a two point margin over the Reds. The Giants are thirteen points behind the Champions. The Giants deserted the home lot today to go to Boston for a double bill. The Dodgers are in Philadelphia, two soft spots for two clubs.

The Reds are at home entertaining the Cardinals. The Yankees take on the Athletics for a pair of encounters at the Polo Grounds—not a snap assignment by any means considering the class of ball the Macks have been playing lately.

The White Sox are booked with the Tigers. St. Louis always dangerous are hooked with the Indians.

INDEPENDENT TEAM STILL UNORGANIZED

Despite a meeting held for organization purposes last week, members of the independent football team in this city, which plays under the name of the Maroon Athletic Club, are still unorganized.

Enthusiasm is not wanting for the coming season and there is no delay in the organization plans occasioned by any lack of spirit in connection with getting a team under way, but the plan of operation this year has caused the club to go slow in organizing and getting down to business.

George Baldner, who coached the club last year, has so far refused to take hand in the membership during the coming season. He has again been licensed as a certified football referee by Spalding and is listed with that concern, and he will probably spend most of the football season officiating at games rather than coaching the locals.

The material on hand this year however, is even better than ever and there is no doubt but the local mokeskin artist will be on the field this year, but the delayed action may tend to set them back to a late start.

VERONAS WILL MEET FAIRFIELD MONDAY

The Veronas of Dayton will furnish the Labor Day contest with the Fairfield team at Fairfield Monday afternoon.

The Dayton aggregation has never been defeated outside of Dayton this season while the Fairfield lads have come through with a clean slate all through this season. The game is expected to be a lively tussle.

RAID ON EAST END CLUB SATURDAY MADE BY SHERIFF

Cards, corn liquor, money and gamblers, were gathered in a raid conducted last Saturday night by Sheriff Lincoln Funderburg, on the Rosenwald Club, in the old Harris Saloon, on East Main street, the names of thirty men being taken by the officers.

The raid was conducted at 12:20 o'clock Saturday night, by Sheriff Funderburg, with Deputy Sheriff George Birch, Deputy Sheriff George Spencer and Pennsylvania Railroad Detective Cliff Latimer. Charges of keeping a place where intoxicating liquor is sold and of keeping a place where gambling is permitted, will probably be filed Tuesday against Wheeler Kimbrough and Aubert Lindsay, in charge of the club.

Previous to the raid, a half pint of corn whiskey was purchased at the place by a man sent by Sheriff Funderburg and the liquor is held as evidence by the authorities, with a deck of cards and $25.85 in money, which was in an iron money box on the table used by the card players.

The raid took on the nature of the sensational when Patrolman Charles Simms of the Police Department, was found in the Club and his name taken by the Sheriff's raiding party with the rest of the men in the place. Whether charges will be filed against those in the place or the participants in the games has not been decided but the names of all are held by the Sheriff.

Patrolman Simms, who was on duty at the time, informed the Sheriff and Chief of Police M. E. Graham that he had entered the club just a few minutes ahead of the reading party, in search of a man against whom a complaint had been lodged. The policeman's story is that a patrolman charged of Headquarters while Officer David Mangan was at lunch that a man named Hosley had been assaulted, Simms claims he immediately went on a search for the man suspected of the assault and had entered the Rosenwald Club with that purpose. He alleged that he learned the address of the man he was looking for from one of the players and was about to leave when the authorities entered.

Sheriff Funderburg says that Simms was not playing at the time he officers entered but the fact that the policeman was in uniform and on duty makes the fact of his apprehension serious.

RAISIN JACK TAKEN FROM THREE MEN

Four quarts of raisin jack were taken from Ova Watts, Ovie Williams and John Paris, arrested by Sheriff Funderburg and Deputy Sheriff Birch on charges of assault and battery in Fairfield Sunday morning.

The men are alleged to have become intoxicated on the home brew and assaulted Frank Elliott and Howard Hoagland Sunday night. They resumed the fight Sunday morning, according to the Sheriff and were arrested on a complaint from the village. They will be taken before Magistrate J. E. Jones on the charges.

PUTS UP FIGHT WHEN ARRESTED

Al Taylor, 36, colored, was arrested by Sheriff Funderburg, Deputy Birch and Patrolman Day Saturday afternoon on charges of assault by Otis Wolford, of near Cedarville. Taylor attempted to break away from the officers returning with him on Greene street and the officers had to use force in bringing him to the county jail where he was locked up.

BIG CROP OF HAY FEVER JOKES

But Kentucky Man Says People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony Are Kidding Themselves.

Wouldn't Be Any Hay Fever If Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of Hay Fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline, and by just adding water that has been boiled, make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my Hay Fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear, and in cases where it does show up, is very mild and does not annoy."

"It's the same way with Rose Fever. The Better Class of Pharmacists who dispense Mentholized Arcline say that it will greatly modify any attack, even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin."

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint for up to the present time there has been little demand for this friendly medicine.

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

CHARGED WITH USING KNIFE WITH INTENT TO KILL; ON BOND

William Foley, arraigned in Magistrate J. E. Jones' court Saturday afternoon on two charges of cutting with intent to kill and of carrying concealed weapons filed by Vernon Atley, was bound over to Common Pleas Court and his bond fixed at $500 in each case.

The charges grew out of a cutting scrape on the streets several weeks ago, in which Foley drew a knife and slashed Atley across the abdomen, the wound requiring 23 stitches at the Espey Hospital, where Atley was taken. Foley paid a fine in Police Court on a disorderly charge in connection with the case and it was thought that the matter was dropped at that time.

W E R A IN ADVERTISING—TELLING THE TRUTH.

The remarkable advertisements now being published by C. Arkham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad Co., demand a monument on the highway of business progress, and are especially fitting at this time, when the railroads of the United States have just passed back into the full control of the companies. These advertisements, some of which have been placed at the stations of the road, sketch what has been done by Illinois Central in the face of great difficulties, but declare the Illinois Central is but one railroad system out of many.

Thus this company does not vaunt itself by comparison with others nor does it claim that it will "cure anything," as one is led to believe by the old-style medicine advertisements, but it shows that the gross ton miles of freight now being moved are greater than ever before and that the passengers carried are almost up to the greatest of record.

The best of it all is the change that this advertising marks. It is a great success of bombast, of claims that were backed by fact or in which fact was treated to a great deal of bloating. For long periods after he set the example other advertisers seemed to consider it necessary to paint in extravagant colors and fabricate fancies that would appeal to the imagination of the reader. A lot of lying was done and advertising was discredited.

One day somebody said, "Let us drop back to the truth," and there has been a material change since that time. Not only has exaggeration abated but the sentiment of fairness has crept into the business, and it is now possible for a dealer to admit that possibly the other fellow has some good merchandise in his shop.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. Ralph Dodds, who is on the staff of the Bellefontaine lex as a reporter, left this morning after spending a few days on a visit with relatives here.

Miss Florence O'Wesney, who has been absent for some weeks on a visit with friends at Steubenville and Pittsburgh, has returned to Xenia and has resumed her position as cashier and bookkeeper at Jobe Bros. & Co.

Mr. J. R. Stephens of Kelbie's store went to Columbus this morning where he will spend a couple of days and take in the State Fair.

The S. of V. Band, which has been giving a series of concerts at the asylum at Dayton will go there this evening for the closing concert.

FINED ON CHARGES.

Ova Watts, Ovie Williams and John Paris, arrested at Fairfield Sunday morning by Sheriff Funderburg and Deputy Sheriff Birch, faced charges of assault and battery in Magistrate J. E. Jones' Court Monday morning. They were fined $10 and costs in each case.

PROMINENT LAWYER ENDORSES DRECO

Was Weak, nervous, rundown, could not sleep, had no appetite, suffered from headaches and liver was sluggish. Dreco relieved all these troubles.

"My health is better than it has been for years and I feel like a different person", are the words of that well known and highly respected lawyer, Mr. J. B. Ferguson, of Cambridge, Ohio.

"When I began taking Dreco, I was very thin and felt tired and listless all the time. I was weak and highly nervous, and my sleep was broken every night. Headaches often attacked me and also dizzy spells caused me much anxiety.

"My appetite was poor, but worst of all no matter how little I ate, it disagreed with me, causing me pains in my stomach, and general uneasiness."

"There was so much praise being given the new root and herb medicine, Dreco, I decided to try it, and to say that I am happy over the results is expressing it mildly; for my stomach troubles are gone. I eat big hearty meals, and nothing disagrees with me now. I don't know what it is to have a headache or dizzy spells my nerves are quiet and I sleep the whole night through without waking. I go about my work with new energy, and am not tired out when the day is over. Yes sir, I am proud of what Dreco has done for me, and you certainly have my permission to publish this in the papers."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Xenia by Sohn's Drug Store.

THOUGHTS FOR LABOR DAY.

I Cor. 12, 20. "But now are they many members but one body." If the eye, the hand or the foot suffers, the whole body suffers. If one member of the world's industries says to another, "I have no need of you," how soon disaster occurs. We may well say of Capital and Labor, "United we stand; divided we fall." Like the Siamese twins, when the vital connection was severed, both perished; so employer and laborer, separated by warring faction's may destroy themselves and paralyze the world.

Every building speaks of an architect and laborer, a thinker and a toiler, the ideal and the real. What a contrast between union of effort and individual antagonism. Organization and harmonization are for the welfare of mankind. Loving thy neighbor as thyself is the bond of union, uniting all into one brotherhood. Put yourself in each other's place, seeing both sides of every great question; the wider vision will excite sympathetic feeling between all classes.

As the League of Nations is to save the world from the ravages of war, so a similar league between Capital and Labor will release the dove of peace, float the union flag of love for one another; quench the selfish burnings of Capital, extinguish the violent fires of anarchy, making one glorious flame of undying devotion, brotherhood and friendship between all races, inaugurating a new democracy for the masses and the classes in a faith that unites and not in a fear that disintegrates.—E. W. Caswell.

THE BAD COLD.

I find that by the summer seas one catches colds, just as at home; oh, come, my friends, and hear me sneeze, and see my whiskers flecked with foam. This climate is the brag and boast, the endless plude of quite a few; but all along the sunny coast I hear men say, "Kerswoosh! Kerchoo!" The pills I take are black and tan, the poultice is a sight to see; I do not care for any man who will not come and sneeze with me. Oh, when one has a summer cold, the old world's beauties fade away; the azure skies seem stale and old, the sun shows symptoms of decay. You see the starlight on the deep, and do not feel a single thrill; you merely shed a bitter weep, and take another blue black pill. My heart is filled with discontent as I sit here beside the sea; I've no respect for any gent who will not sneeze a round with me. The glands are swollen in my throat and every cough gives me a shock, and I have lost the saintly goat that came with me to Plymouth Rock. My thoughts are all of doom and fate, and will be till from colds I'm free; I have it in for any skate who will not sneeze a tune with me.

DAYTON HAS CELEBRATION

Dayton, O., Sept. 6.—More than 3,500 men and women marched in the Labor Day parade here today. Floats indicative of the various trades were included. The parade was the only local demonstration of the many branches of labor having their individual outings for the day. No speech program was scheduled.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

"Blue Rose": You poor little girl! Your trouble comes from marrying when you were too young to use good judgment. Probably you would be happier if you persuaded your husband to find work in another town where he would not be able to run home all the time. If he will not do it, it seems to me you would be happier to leave him and face the world alone. He is cruel and selfish and keeps you heartsick all the time. Let the other woman have him if he will not move to another town where he would be free from harmful ties. The other woman shows what she is to say she would give up her husband and children if he would divorce you.

Perhaps some one in your family will take care of the baby while you work. I believe it would be better for you to make your own way courageously than to live with a man who has ceased to honor you. Of course your one chance for happiness with him is to get him away from evil influences.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married lady twenty-five years of age and have been married two years. We have one sweet baby. Before baby came my husband was kind to me, but since he has given me but very few kind words. He seems to love baby, but cares nothing for me, which nearly breaks my heart.

I find that I do not care for him as I did one day. As soon as he comes home he begins to scold and curse and uses so much profanity that I am happier when he is away. Should I live with him and bring baby up in break his home? Or what can I do to break him of cursing? Why are men so much like brutes, and do the majority of them treat their wives with no respect whatever? I was brought up in a good and refined home and to live with a man like my husband is almost unbearable. He has fits of temper and throws things across the house and curses until I wonder how the Merciful God can give a person breath to use such language.

Young girls who read this, take advice from one who has had experience. Do not marry before you are twenty. That is plenty young enough. You may think you have trouble while single, but that is nothing compared to married trouble.

I try to be agreeable and make home life pleasant, but get so dispirited that I am kind to my neighbors and has a lot of friends. He has an entirely different disposition outside of home. I am disgusted with such a life. What can I do? It is degrading to live with such a person.

TROUBLED WIFE.

No, you should not bring your baby up in such a home if you can help it. You are too young to sacrifice yourself to a home where you are not honored. I firmly believe that your husband will value you if he loses you. If you have parents to go to, make them a visit and tell your husband that when he is ready to treat you with respect and kindness he can come for you. Say that you have had enough of his swearing and abuse.

You ask if the majority of men are brutes. The answer would be a "yes." I believe that the brute you now see is only a demon who has entered a good man for the time being and will disappear. Of course you will have to insist upon decency; the demon will grow larger and more and more unbearable.

I believe that your husband will want you and the baby too much to continue in the way he is living now.

CANADA WILL EXPORT TEN MILLION BARRELS OF FLOUR

Winnepeg, Man., Sept. —More than 10,000,000 barrels of flour will be sent to foreign countries by Canada this year, according to estimates by agricultural and milling experts. The total capacity of Canada's 720 flour mills is 142,642 barrel a day. Back in 1876 when the Hudson Bay Company which is closing out its remaining lands to colonists, erected a mill sixty feet high with a capacity of 1,350 pounds a day it was the marvel of the Western agricultural world. Today even the smallest of the mills have a 100-barrel a day capacity. It is estimated that each person in Canada consumes about a barrel and a half of flour, or six and a half bushels of wheat a year. Therefore to supply Canadian demands the mills must produce at least 9,750,000 barrels of flour. Last year Canada milled 18,225,000 barrels of flour, from $2,012,000 bushels of wheat, making it possible to send to foreign countries 9,500,000 barrels of flour. The big grain crop this year it is said will result in a much greater exportation of flour.

Why You Should Buy Guaranteed Roofing

When you buy roofing you want durability as well as shelter. You want to know that it will last long enough to make its average cost per year a reasonable figure.

That is why Certain-teed should appeal to you. For, when properly laid, Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.

The guarantee adequately protects your investment, but it does not accurately measure Certain-teed's life. In fact no one knows just how durable Certain-teed is, because in no case has it ever been known to wear out on the roof.

And Certain-teed is more than durable. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It effectively shelters your property.

With all these advantages, Certain-teed Roofing costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain, than any other type of good roofing.

See your dealer about Certain-teed. He either has it or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

FIFTY FOUR DRIVERS TO START IN FIRST DAY'S RACES IN FAIR

Fifty-four drivers have paid entrance fees to start their horses in the first days races of the Montgomery County Fair, which opens at Dayton Monday.

On the opening program will be a 2:16 trot, a 2:14 pace and a 2:30 trot. There are no Xenian owned horses starting on the Labor Day program, although Goldie V., the well known pacer driven by Forest Jones of Cedarville, will be a starter in the 2:14 pace.

Colby Turner, the "armless wonder," who had bad luck in not being able to start his trotter, Laura Lucille at the local fair races, is scheduled to get away in the 16 trot at Dayton in a field of 16 starters Banker Bingen owned by Ray Woodcox of Piqua, and a winner at the local fair, will also start in this race.

In the 14 pace there will be nine teen starters and in the 2:30 trot there will be 19 starters, in case none of the horses are drawn before the race starts.

Besides the harness racing there will be a five-eighths mile run, best two in three heats, purse $150.

BUMPER WHEAT CROP HARVESTED IN CANADA

WINNIPEG, Man.—With the harvest ending throughout Canada, estimates of total wheat crop differ. Experts of the Agricultural Department of the Dominion government put the figure at 262,358,000 bushels. Last year's crop according to final estimates was 193,260,000 bushels. W. A. Black, of the Ogilvie Milling Company, a crop authority estimates a yield from 225,000,000 to 250,000,000 bushels.

If the government estimate is correct, the harvest will mean $666,338,520 in the pockets of Canadian farmers if last year's prices are maintained. The fixed price last year was $2.15 but under its participation certificates system, the wheat board recently paid the growers 30 cents a bushel additional as excess profits and in a few weeks will distribute 10 cents a bushel more.

Though in older communities the acreage to wheat was less than last year, much new acreage was brought into cultivation along the Canadian National Railway's Transcontinental line, where settlement is heavy. Government authorities minimize the effect of rust in the prairie provinces.

may eventually give a woman rights to which they are entitled but good health which is the birthright of every American woman, must be hers before she can fully enjoy the privileges which woman's suffrage will bring. Women who suffer from those dreadful pains, backache, headaches, irritability, nervousness and depression, symptoms of organic trouble, should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which is made from roots and herbs, to restore them to a normal, healthy condition as it has thousands of other American women.

TASTY SAUCES.
Some sauces to use with croquettes and cutlets:

Tartar Sauce—One cup of mayonnaise, one large onion grated, one-half cup finely chopped parsley, one sour pickle (chopped fine), pinch of thyme, one-quarter teaspoon of mustard, one-half teaspoon of paprika. Mix and then chill and use.

Onion Sauce—Mince very fine sufficient onions to measure one-half cup. Then place one-half cup of shortening in a frying pan. Add the onions and one-half cup of flour. Cook until a deep mahogany brown and then add one teaspoon of kitchen bouquet, one teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of pepper, one-quarter teaspoon of thyme, three cups of water. Stir to blend and then bring to a boil and cook slowly until thick. Strain.

A Vegetable Sauce—Place in a saucepan one and one-half cups of stock in which vegetables were cooked, one cup milk, two-thirds cup of flour. Stir to dissolve and then bring to a boil and cook for five minutes. Now add one and one-half teaspoons of salt, one teaspoon pepper, one-eighth teaspoon any, one-half cup finely minced parsley. Stir to blend and then bring to a boil and remove from the fire and serve.

Sauce Fine Herbs—Four onions, three bunches of scallions, one bunch of parsley, one green pepper, one red pepper. Add to the vegetable sauce with: Two tablespoons of butter, two tablespoons of lemon juice.

Stir to blend thoroughly and then beat hard. Garnish croquettes with parsley, watercress and finely shredded lettuce, coleslaw in nests made of lettuce leaves with a tomato cut into eighths like an orange; also with slices of hard-boiled egg or pickled beets.

SOME ICE CREAM SAUCES.

Ice cream is made more attractive if it is served with some sort of sauce, and it is quite a mistake to think that the only sort of sauce is that standby of the housewife and beloved of all small boys, chocolate sauce.

Any sort of fruit may be made into an ice cream sauce. Instead of serving bought peach ice cream some housewives prefer to buy plain vanilla ice cream and serve it with a sauce made from crushed peaches. To do this select a very coarse wire sieve and use perfectly ripe but unblackened peaches. Peel and push through the sieve, saving the juice and pulp alike. Add sugar to taste and a little lemon juice if the peaches lack flavor.

The juice that comes from stewed or canned fruit may be used. To do this it is well to add a little cornstarch—a scant half teaspoon to a pint of the juice. Boil thoroughly and set aside to cool. Fruit juices should always be served chilled, as they do not show improvement on being served hot, as does chocolate sauce.

A GREAT TREAT FOR MARY AND TOM

CHAPTER 109
It was amusing to see Mary's face when we went into the Blackstone. Surprise, amazement, curiosity were so blended that her expression of delight brought a hearty laugh from Tony.

"I see you are going to approve my choice of a place to dine, Miss Murphy," he said, as he walked with her, leaving me with Tom—another proof of his kindness of heart. I thought, "Tom was a bit awkward, but he did not show his feelings as plainly as did Mary. She fairly bubbled."

Tony had reserved a table for four, and at Mary's plate and mine were corsage bouquets of lovely rosebuds. Mary looked at me, and when I pinned mine on she did the same, first holding them across to Tom, so he could smell them.

"Ain't—aren't they lovely!" she said to me.

"Indeed they are," "Do men like him," she glanced at Tony who, busy with the waiter was paying no attention to her for the moment, "always buy girls flowers when they take them out to dinner?"

"Not always, Mary."

"Ain't it—aren't—no, isn't it just grand?" she asked in a stage whisper. Tony heard this time, and replied:

"I am glad you're pleased, Miss Murphy."

"Pleased! It is just like I have always thought: Heaven would be lovely music, lights, everybody looking happy. It's mighty good of you, Mr. Deland, to ask Tom and me."

"It's mighty good of Tom and you to come," Tony replied with a smile. Here comes the waiter. I hope I have ordered things you like."

Tony had ordered a very bountiful dinner, but had left out the unusual, highly seasoned dishes he usually indulged in. There was thick cream soup, simple fish, young lamb with peas, dessert, coffee, crackers and cheese—just the kind of a meal a person of simple tastes, unused to a hotel menu, would enjoy. Then he and Tom smoked a good cigar while we talked and listened to the music.

"I never eat so much in all my life at one meal!" Mary said to me.

"Neither did I!" Tom agreed. Tony had left us for a moment; someone had called him to the telephone.

"It was a nice dinner," I said, then added: "Mr. Deland always knows how to do the right thing."

"Do you know, Zena, I think that's what makes him so nice. He just seems to know what Tom and me would enjoy. I'll bet now he would have had a lot of them queer dishes with fancy names if you and him had been alone. But he knew that Tom and me wouldn't like them, because we ain't used to that kind of eating. But it WAS good of him to bring us to his stylish place, plain folks like us."

"You heard what he said, that it was good of you to come, and I Tony and that he seemed so friendly agree with him. Sh—s, there he comes now."

"I have secured tickets to a show. I hope you haven't seen it," he said as he sat down. We had not of course, and we left at once.

He had four seats in the orchestra near the front of the house. It was a musical comedy and Mary was so delighted that she kept us laughing with her quaint remarks. Tom too, seemed to enjoy every bit of the play. During the intermission, Mary whispered:

"Backs seem to be the part of their bodies women like to show at the theater—don't they Xena?" In front of us was a large woman her very low gown held on by straps of jet.

Tony heard and laughed. Afterward he said it was more at Mary's expression than at what she said.

Mary was a bit embarrassed and said nothing further about the gowning of the women. But her remarks about the play and the characters were really funnier than anything on the stage.

"She's a whole show in herself!" Tony said in an aside to me.

"And such a dear," I replied.

"I'll bet she is! No one could help liking her!"

I made up my mind to repeat that remark to Mary. She was apt to underestimate herself.

On our way out I saw Mr. Claxton. He bowed and smiled at me. How happy I was that I had told him of Tomorrow—Mary Keeps Zena Up
